GENERAL MAN HUNT. Forty mounted guards are searching for the fugitives. Since last night the old prison has presented an air of activity that it has not known for years. As soon as the alarm was given guards were formed in marching order, and armed men, armed to the teeth, were drawn up in front of the main entrance. Most of the guards were old plainsmen, and the diversion of hunting down criminals stirred their blood as nothing else could have done. The escaped der, and the arrest will come as a result convicts were counted the most desperate of the conference to-day with the trustees criminals in the Southwest, and the guards and representatives of the bonding comstarted out on their hunt in full realization pany. of this fact. The scene of mutiny, however, being some distance from the prison proper, the convicts had secured a good start, and, aided by the rough-wooded country, they had, before darkness fell placed a good gap between themselves and their pursuers. The guards at best could risk, were comparatively small. It was anmake but a desultory attempt at pursuit and were compelled to await daylight to take up the search.

The alarm was sent in all directions, the officials of Kansas City, Atchison, St. Joseph, Topeka and Leavenworth being asked to keep the police on the lookout and | ing awaited from headquarters. In relaall night in each of the cities armed police and detectives patroled the outskirts. During the night reports came in from all directions of theits of horses and vehicles, clothing and food by the convicts, and as the report that the convicts were at large spread, citizens in the outlying districts became terror-stricken and barred their houses. At Missouri City, Mo., a store was broken into and a quantity of clothing and shoes were stolen; at Weston, Mo., two or three horses were taken and at Tonganoxie a couple of horses and some clothing was Bright and early to-day an increased number of guards, well armed and mounted, were started out from the penitentiary, and to-day was spent in as exciting a manhunt, perhaps, as has been experienced in this part of the country since the border days. It is believed that all the convicts will ultimately be captured, if not overtaken by the guards and shot. Each prisoner has undergone an examination under the Bertillon system and to-day these descriptions were mailed to every chief or police in the country. Guard Waldrupe, who was shot in the head, is still alive, but the surgeons have no hope of his recovery. Leonard, whose leg was broken, will be a cripple for life. The other guards are doing well.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8 .- The steam whaler Narwhal, from the north, brings the story of extreme privation that resulted in the death of one sailor and much suffering to another. While the Narwhal was in winter quarters at Bailee island two of the crew. Andrew Ellstrom and Herman Myrus, deserted and started to Cape Nome overland with a sledload of provisions and two dogs. When a few hours on their journey they lost all their provisions with the exception of a bag of flour. After tramping seventy-two hours without resting Myrus succumbed to the cold. Ellstrom, with the dog team, dragged Myrus after him to a deserted hut. For several days the two men subsisted on dry flour and dog flesh. A man from the Nar-whal sent to trade with the natives found the men and a relief party was sent out from the Narwhal. The relief party when it reached the hut found that Ellstrom had died from cold and Myrus was unconscious. In order to save his life both his feet were amputated.

Carter, who was convicted by military court-martial of embezzlement and sentenced to a term in the that she was tired of his evident partiality reported. The government attached about $150,000 of the property belonging to Capt. Carter, and the question which will be tried before Judge Kohlsaat relates only to the title to that property. Incidentally of course the question of Captain Carter's conviction by military court will be raised. but Attorney General Knox told the Cabinet that it was in no sense a new trial of Captain Carter's case before a civil tribunal. Attorney General Knox said that with the $150,000 which the government soon will recover the total amount restored to Bold Attempt to Rob a Gambling the government will foot up to over half a million dollars.

A considerable portion of the time of the Cabinet to-day was devoted to talking over the plans of the National William McKinley Memorial Association. The President discussed with them matters of reciprocity, revenue and tariff which may come before their committee at the approaching session of Congress and yesterday read to them the portion of his message covering these subfects. Thomas Parran, Rep., has been elected clerk of the Court of Appeals by a plurality of 1,258 over J. Frank Turner, the Democratic incumbent. In the counties Mr. Turner had a plurality of 2,508, but was defeated in the city. The official count in Caroline county elects Jefferson. Dem., to the House by a majority of four in place of Stevens, Rep., who was represented yesterday to have been elected by a majority of one. This, however, is counterbalanced in Kent county by the election to the House of Kendall, Rep., by a majority of thirty-one over Johnson, Dem., heretofore reported elected by a majority of five. The official count in the counties give the Democrats forty-eight members in the House and the Republicans twenty-nine. This would enable the Democrats to organize the House, even if the official count in Baltimore city should show that the Republicans had elected a solid delegation of eighteen members, which is not probable.

The indications are that three Democratic delegates have been elected from Baltimore city, but at the rate at which the official count in this city is progressing it probably will be two days at least before decision is reached. PEKING, Nov. 8 .- A violent dispute with M. Paul Lessar, Russian minister to China, over the Manchurian treaty, appears to have been the immediate cause of the death of Li Hung Chang.

The diplomatic events preceding this tragic climax have enabled Japan for a moment to frustrate the designs of Russia. A fortnight ago the Japanese legation secured a reliable outline of the terms of the treaty, and thereupon demanded that the Chinese plenipotentiaries officially lay before them the text, basing this demand on the allegation that Japanese interests were involved in any change of the status of Manchuria. The Chinese plenipotentiaries refused to comply with the demand. Thereupon the Japanese government, from Tokio, communicated with the southern viceroys and induced them to use their influence with the Empress dowager against the treaty. In the meantime the Empress dowager instructed Li Hung Chang to communicate the treaty, after certain modifications, to the ministers of the powers, and, if they did not object, to sign the same. Li Hung Chang visited M. Lessar and explained to him the instructions. The Russian minister strongly objected to revealing the text of the treaty to the ministers of the other powers, and a stormy interview followed. Li Hung Chang went home in a violent passion and had a hemorrhage, which the doctors attributed
